About the candidate

I am a labour member who is qualified at higher education level in areas of financing and health issues specialising in areas of mental health and counselling. I am originally from Rosyth where my parents both served as fife councillors. I have spent the more recent time in Dunfermline where I worked in the private sector. This allowed me to travel to some areas in fife like Kirkcaldy and Dunfermline. Most recently I was working in the local co-op store in Lochore where I have lived for over 2 years now. I have spent this time actively campaigning for the Labour Party and have been hearing more and more complaints about the way the SNP and Lib Dems are running the vital services in fife namely the care sector of the NHS. I believe the NHS is a lifeline of our government. The current administration wishes to cut a deficit.
